FRED A. HAMLIN

It was with sorrow that the many friends of Fred Hamlin learned of his death on Thursday, Sept. 14th, at his home in Kimball Park. Mr. Hamlin had been in failing health for several years, but was confined to his bed only a few days.

He was born Aug. 15, 1864, at Milan, N. H., the son of Dexter and Celestine Hamlin. He married Belle Kimball of Bethel, May 5, 1909, and they lived in Berlin for several years, where he was associated with his brother, Frank Hamlin, in the lumbering business.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin came to Bethel 27 years ago, and have since made many friends in and about the town.

Of a genial nature, Mr. Hamlin will be remembered by many for his pleasant greeting and ready smile.

He was a devoted husband, and respected citizen, always interested in civic and national affairs.

Besides his widow, he leaves several cousins.

Funeral services were held at Greenleaf's funeral parlor, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. David Hickland officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Milan, N. H.

He saw when his footsteps faltered, When his heart grew weak and faint. He marked when his strength was failing, But he never heard any complaint.

He bid him rest for a season; For the pathway had grown too steep, And folded in fair green pastures He giveth his loved one sleep.

There will be a meeting of the Mount-Alien Post, American Legion, at the Legion Home next Tuesday evening.

Stanley Davis will return to Delhi, N. Y., and Jerry Davis to Springfield, Mass., on Friday to resume their courses for the year.

Parker Day, who is in the Army in Korea, was recently promoted to the rank of Sergeant, only a month after he became a Corporal.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown attended the convention of the Photographers Association of New England in Boston Monday.

Richmond Davis, a senior at the New York Agricultural and Technical Institute, returned to his studies at Delhi, N. Y., Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Davis and son returned Tuesday from the Rumford hospital and are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis.

Miss Yvonne Charlton and Mrs. Margaret MacLaughlin of East Kingston, N. H., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown.

Miss Edna Sweeney of Milford, N. H., returned home Monday after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Stanley Brown, and family.

Louis Van Den Kerckhoven and Kimball Ames attended a group meeting of the Maine Bankers Association at the Hotel Harris, Rumford, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown and Miss Althea Brown of Athens and Mrs. Florence Hurd of Hartland were visitors Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown and family.

GOULD OPENS AGAINST PARIS, SATURDAY

Gould Academy, with many of last year's regulars missing, and only nine days of practice, will take on a strong South Paris team. The Cardinals won an easy victory over Bridgton last Saturday and will be primed for this one.

Coch Scott has a large squad out, over sixty, but the group is lacking in varsity experience and needs time to develop. The opening day line-up is still very uncertain. The following regulars from last year are certain starters: Capt. Wayne Bennett, lg; Gordon Howe, rhy; Les Streeter, re; and Dick Douglass, rt. Other lettermen who may be in the starting line-up are Emery, lg; Lowell or Clark, lt; Adams, c; Patterson, rg; and Bean, fb.

Others who will see service are up from last year's JV's and are Paul Bartlett, lhb, Chase, lhb; Don Bennett, c; John Mason, rg; Harry Bartlett, re; Ferguson, lg; Yates, rt; Fred Smith, lg; Bud Howe, c; Fortin, b; Lord, t; Sweeney, g; and quarterback Kanaly.

Frank Murphy and Henri Agnese are backs who are out with injuries. There are also a few new men who may fit in as the season rolls along, such as Collette, qb; Rolly, g; Durgin, t; and Johnson, c. If Agnese is not back in shape for the game, there is a possibility of starting Collette Saturday.

The opening game is scheduled to start at 2:00 p.m. on Alumni Field. Officials are Joe Topping, referee; Red Melvin, umpire; and Connors as headlineman.

LOCAL GIRL RETURNS FROM SUMMER EUROPEAN TOUR

Miss Virginia Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings of Bethel, was among 1,430 students who arrived on the student ship S. S. Volendam at Hoboken, N. J., Sunday morning after a summer in Europe.

She participated in Tri Nation Tour F, sponsored by the National Student Association and visited Holland, Germany, Belgium, France, England, Scotland, and Ireland during her eight weeks in Europe.

This was the third annual student sailing of the 23-year-old converted troopship The Netherlands government and the Holland-America Line arranged for its sailing under the auspices of two student organizations, the National Student Association and the Netherlands Office for Foreign Student Relations.

The European program of NSA is a thorough-going student venture; foreign students act as guides, arrangers and hosts for the Americans selected for the study-tours and work camps sponsored by NSA.

The whole effort is non-profit and non-partisan and is designed to furnish international understanding.

Aboard the Volendam a full-scale shipboard program was run by the students. Activities included language classes, lecture programs, a student-run ship's paper, dance band and variety show. The Volendam is expected to sail again next year.

Mrs. Celia Gorman brought a bunchberry blossom and a cluster of blueberry blossoms to the Citizen Office, Monday. Mrs. Gorman picked them near her cottage at Songo.

NEW BETHEL BAND HOLDING REGULAR WEEKLY MEETINGS; URGENT NEED FOR MEMBERS

Since its hurried reorganization for the Bazaar last month, Bethel Band has continued meetings and rehearsals and much interest is shown. There are still many former members and local instrumentalists who have not joined the new group and their cooperation in the project will be much appreciated.

As in other communities, the local band waxes and wanes as its supply of talent and interest varies. At present there is every prospect for an excellent band for some time. Quickly assembled under the guidance of Arthur Herrick and Stanley Davis, its performance last month won much praise. Mr. Herrick was a prime mover in organizing a local band 40 years ago and has since been active in nearly every succeeding revival.

At a meeting last week Robert Keniston was chosen as manager of the band, which at present meets at the Community Room on Thursday evenings.

BOY SCOUTS AT CAMPOREE WITH NEW TRAILER

Thirteen boys of Bethel Troop, No. 165, BSA, attended the Pine Tree Council Camporee at Camp Hinda, Raymond, from Friday evening until Sunday noon. It was the first trip made with the troop trailer, which provides an excellent means of carrying everything the boys need and a place for each Scout's equipment. The trailer attracted much favorable comment at the camporee and other troops are now interested in a similar project.

Scouting, which was a popular feature of the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, played a leading part in the camporee events. The Scouts were accompanied by Assistant Scout Master Donald Christie.

Boys attending were: Reginald Westleigh, Harry Taylor, Elmo Saunders, Carlton Brown, Arlan Jodrey, Richard Littlefield, Clark Leighton, Roger Carroll, Merle Cole, Stuart Blake, Paul Stevens, Howard Gunther, and John Wright.

REBEKAH ENJOY POT LUCK SUPPER AT SONGO COTTAGE

Miss Beatrice Brown was hostess to members of Sunset Rebekeah Lodge at "Bea's Nest," Songo Pond, Wednesday evening. The merry party sat down to a bounteous pot luck supper at the long table outdoors. Even with the signs of fall all around no one thought of being cold and the wonderful food and good coffee, not forgetting the boiled corn and roasted too, disappeared in 20 times.

The evening passed all too quickly with music and song. The retiring Noble Grand, Bertha Mills, found herself the honor guest and was presented a sum of money concealed in the living room, but only after she followed a string which was cleverly wound about in and outside the cottage.

Those present included: Beatrice Brown, Mary Brown, Ruby Briggs, Rose Brickland, Elsie A. Poore, Blanche Trask, Addie Saunders, Maxine Brown, Luann Brown, Ruth M. Brown, Dora Ford, Katherine Bennett, Ella Cole, Maud Hunt, Iva Hutchinson, Violet Bennett, Katharine Adams, Dorothy Christie, Bertha Mills, Cora Bennett, C. F. Saunders, and Chester Briggs.

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

Possibly one good reason for hesitancy on Russia's part to attack this country directly is the unquestionable certainty that the Kremlin knows the extent of American industrial capacity far better than the average American. Following are reports of leaders in key industries:

Steel: "Today we have more capacity than all the rest of the world put together. Since the last war started, we have built as much new steel capacity as existed in Germany when that war began. This excess capacity is sufficient to meet the present demand." Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co.

Rubber: "Today we have not one but two raw materials—natural and synthetic rubber. Before World War II we could turn 85,000 tons of rubber into finished products each month. Now we can process 110,000 tons a month. Before World War II our industry had about 125,000 employees. Today, we have over 200,000." Harry E. Humphreys, Jr., president of United States Rubber Co.

Oil: "There is no need for rationing, even if military demand expands substantially from present levels. Since the end of the last war, the petroleum industry has increased its capacity by more than 25 per cent." Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana).

Electric power: "Right now the electric utility industry has one-third more generating capacity than at the end of the last war, and by the end of 1953 will have three quarters more." Louis V. Sutton, president of the Carolina Power & Light Co.

Textiles: "With cotton and synthetic-fiber textile production far ahead of last year, there will be plenty of clothing available in the coming months. Total output of broad woven goods made of cotton is expected to exceed last year's production by 1,500,000,000 square yards." Donald Comer, chairman of the board of Avondale Mills.

Machine Tools: "The industry has far larger capacity than at the start of the second war and could be expanded to meet twice the present demand." Charles J. Stillwell, president of Warner & Swasey Co.

Food: "There is absolutely no reason for panic buying of foods. We have a more abundant supply on hand than ever before." Morris Hays, president of the Corn Producers Refining Co.

In response to queries of officials charged with the task of insuring the nation's security, American industry said to the government, "Tell us what you want we can tell the order."

A WORD WORTH WORKING WITH

Today's word is c-y-n-i-c-a-l.

Do you allow yourself to entertain cynical thoughts? Cynical thoughts about yourself or your fellow man? Or about the world in general? Here is a study of the word:

Cynic: One of a Greek school of philosophers who taught that virtue is the only good and that its essence lies in self-control and independence. Later, cynics were violent critics of social customs and current philosophies. Hence, a snarler; a misanthrope; specifically, one who believes that human conduct is motivated wholly by self-interest.

Cynical (from Greek meaning dog-like): 1. Snarling, capricious, curliish. 2. Having the attitude and temper of a cynic, contemptuously distrustful of human nature. C-y-n-i-c-a-l implies a sneering disbeliever in sincerity and rectitude.

In his second letter to the Corinthians, Paul the apostle wrote (1:12), "For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward."

Sam Walter Foss, an American poet, says,

"I would not sit in the scorners' seat

Nor hurl the cynics' ban,

Let me live in my house by the side of the road

And be a friend to man."

Let us resolve today to work with this word by casting out doubt and distrust and derision. Let us honor and cherish the good in human nature by acknowledging its source to be God. Let us be friends to man.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

Lindsborg, Kansas, News Record:

"People do read the newspapers.

The other week the Emporia Gazette printed an interesting item from its files telling of aid sent to Russia twenty years ago. But a lot of folk who read the item didn't read all of it evidently and jumped at conclusions. They got pretty excited and kept the telephones at the Gazette office and at the customer of Commerce ringing.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Herald: "Most unprejudiced citizens believe in the principle of collective bargaining.

But when collective bargaining begs down, what then?

"Slowly but surely public sentiment is crystallizing in favor of some sort of compulsory arbitration. And why not? Every decision handed down in a civil court involves the principle of compulsory arbitration. It is the procedure recognized as just and equitable to all parties concerned."

Windom, Minn., Reporter: "The Presidential election of 1948 brought out only one-half of those who were entitled to vote, the real expression of citizenship. Only 60 per cent of the graduates of American colleges and universities took the trouble to go to the polls and mark

a ballot."

Centralls, Wash., Chronicle:

"Truman may have read about

Martin Van Buren, who was defeated for the presidency because he refused to spend the public funds."

Oney, Illinois, Advocate: "No wonder babies cry when they are born into this world — naked and hungry, and find they already owe the government $1,700."

Ulen, Minn., Union: "Of every dollar Minnesota paid in taxes in 1948, 70 cents went to Washington, only 15 cents of it stayed at home in our own local government."

OUR NEWS COLUMNS

If you read it in the Citizen you have reasonable assurance that all the facts are substantially as reported.

Neighborhood "gossip," progressively distorted as it travels on its natural course from person to person, is paid scant attention and the anonymous communication is spurned by the editorial department. You can believe what you read in the Citizen.

OUR ADVERTISING

Citizen advertisers are invariably reliable—no other type of advertising is knowingly accepted. Merchandise offered is of high quality, prices consistent and we believe a "trade at home" policy for the Bethel family buyer to be practical and economical.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Look at Switzerland by Dewitt Emery

Probably some of my readers will say, or at least think, that this piece is in bad taste now that American boys are being killed every day in the "police action" in Korea. If so, so be it. However, to those who feel that way I'd suggest that they keep in mind that "police action" or no "police action", war or no war, there is still an awful lot of debunking which must be done if this country is to come out of this ruckus with its form of government unchanged and its way of life intact.

A recent survey of world economic conditions shows that no country in the world is in a stronger position than Switzerland. It is the only country in the world which has its currency backed 100 percent by gold. In fact, the Swiss gold holding per capita is more than three times as great as in the United States.

How has it been possible for Switzerland, completely surrounded by countries which have had recurrent wars, to remain neutral whereas the United States which is more than three thousand miles away has been involved in two European wars and is now well on its way to being very seriously involved in another one?

Maybe part of the answer is that Switzerland has defied every rule which the American internationalists say must be followed by a modern state in order to maintain peace and promote prosperity.

Switzerland is not a member of the United Nations. Out of courtesy to this country it joined the Marshall plan but it never took a dime of American money. It did not become a partner in the European payments plan set up by the recipient nations under the Marshall plan. It did not become a member of the Council of Europe. It did not join the Bretton Woods world bank or monetary fund. It is not a party to the North Atlantic military alliance or of the mutual assistance program.

Switzerland does not have any government supported plans or devices to promote free trade. Switzerland is a true Republic, has been for 600 years, and keeps open frontiers for both imports and exports. It is the only capital exporting country in Europe and it exports not on the basis of government hand-outs but rather on a sound business basis.

Switzerland imports more than it exports and pays the excess in cash instead of crying like its neighbor countries, over "dollar shortages" or inability to balance payments.

The Swiss did not devalue their currency last September when their European neighbors did. Instead, they maintained the parity of the Swiss franc with the dollar, which has existed since 1936 even though this had the effect of increasing the price on Swiss exports by 43 per cent. Switzerland has met this problem by sustained production of high grade capital goods which Europe and the world badly need.

Under a free competitive economy the Swiss work while their socialist competitors mess around with rules, regulations, export and import controls, the devising of plans and the setting up of goals which are never met.

Those who swallow the internationalists' bait—that only the government can promote prosperity and that only through constant dealings with international agencies and through international agreements and alliances can peace and stability be maintained—would do well to take not one but several long looks at Switzerland and its accomplishments.

Maine has some 30 shipbuilding yards and more than two score stone, clay and granite industries.

WHITE HEADING CAMPAIGN MAINE HEART ASSOCIATION

Dr. Eugene H. Drake, President of the Maine Heart Association, Inc., announces that Ward W. Whyte, managing director of the General Ice Cream Corporation for the state of Maine, has accepted the assignment as Chairman for the Maine Heart Association for the general campaign for 1951.

In accepting the assignment Mr. Whyte stated that he believed that the Maine Heart Association was doing a great deal to alleviate the great death toll caused by Heart Disease in the State of Maine, and could do much more in the future. He stated that a program of research, education, free medication and community service would be the great objective for the ensuing year and that it would increase according to the success of this year's local and state organizations.

YOUR FIRST STEP in washing a sweater comes when the sweater is new. Outline on paper that can be used as a guide for shaping the sweater after it's washed. Sweaters are washed best before they're too soiled, and one sweater at a time. Remove fancy buttons or trimmings.

Test the water for its lukewarm temperature by dropping on the wrist. If you can't feel the water, the temperature is correct. Squeeze

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Spareribs with Applesauce (Serves 6)
1 onion, sliced
4 cups melted fat
4 cups sauerkraut
1 bay leaf
2 cloves
3 pounds spareribs, cut in 6 pieces
2 cups water
1 cup applesauce
Saute onion in melted fat until soft but not brown. Add to sauerkraut. Spread half of sauerkraut in bottom of greased casserole; place spareribs on top; sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little flour. Add bay leaf and cloves, cover with remaining sauerkraut and water. Cover pan and cook in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 1 hour or until spareribs are tender. Remove ribs when done. Mix applesauce into sauerkraut. Return to oven until heated through. Serve mound of applesauce topped with spareribs.

the sweater through the water, working quickly and gently. Dry flat in an airy place.

Sweaters don't stand for soaking, vigorous rubbing, twisting or wringing, up and down dousing or drying near heat or in the sun.

Keep the sweater under the water while washing. Even in taking from the water, lift from below so the weight of the water does not pull it from shape.

If you're in a hard water area, use softened water or a detergent for washing. Soap in hard water gets locked in the knit and is very difficult to remove.

A soft hand brush dipped into mild suds is good pre-washing treatment for sweater necklines and roll on long sleeve cuffs.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By M. L. BARNES

IN PROTECTING a child from accidents, no matter how carefully you watch over him, you can't take the whole responsibility for his safety. The child must be taught respect for dangerous objects and places so he can exercise caution. Sharing this responsibility not only insures greater safety for him, but the child is less likely to grow up with unreasonable fears. He understands the real dangers and has more freedom of action within safe boundaries.

One mother wrote recently that she had made the mistake of telling her child repeatedly, "You must never go across the street." He became so afraid of crossing streets that he refused later on to walk to school alone. With their second child these parents are following a different course. Instead of presenting crossing a street as something fearful like entering a bear's den or a lion's cage (something you don't do even when you're grown up) they explain, "You are too little now to cross the street alone, but you may do so when you are five years old."

In the meantime, there is plenty of drill in crossing streets safely—letting the child "help" mother cross the street by looking out for cars and waiting for the green light.

Here are some of the common dangers of childhood and suggestions on how other parents have taught their children to look out for them:

Turning on the gas jets is one of the first serious dangers a toddler runs into. Until he is old enough to understand what you tell him, you will simply have to keep him away from the stove, with a stern "No, no," every time he tries to grab the knobs.

When he can understand that the knobs are turned only when you put something on to cook, try giving him a sauceman of water and then let him turn on the gas while you explain that the flame will be left on long enough to make the water hot. When the water boils, let the child turn off the gas. A few lessons such as this will convince him that turning on the gas is serious, practical business and not play.

A similar procedure usually succeeds in satisfying a child's interest in lighting matches, though there are some children so obsessed with curiosity about fire that only constant vigilance and keeping matches out of their way will see them safely through this phase. Watching his father light his pipe and blowing out the match is enough for most children at first. Later on, when striking the match himself is the big thrill, let him light the oven for you or the logs in the fireplace.

But always point out the dangers of fire—it is part of a child's safety education to be well aware of risks and dangers.

In this day of houses all on the ground floor, teaching a child to stay away from open windows may not seem so important. But you never know when he may visit someone who lives on a second or third floor.

Living on the fifth floor as I do, I am frequently terrified when friends' children seem totally unaware of the danger involved in hanging over the window sill. So wherever you live, teach your child caution in regard to open windows.

FEWER UNEMPLOYED IN RUMFORD AREA IN AUGUST

A sharp decrease in the number of unemployed workers was evident in the Rumford Labor Market during August as local industry stepped up production, according to an analysis of the monthly figures made by Ernest F. Lever, manager of the Rumford office of the Maine Employment Service Commission.

Lever reported that woodworking industries throughout the area have increased their production schedules to the point that it has become necessary to add additional shifts. Demand for workers in the logging industry are much higher than it any time during the past year. More than four hundred workers have been employed in canning of beans and will continue their work during the harvest and processing of the corn crop. Many resort owners are making calls for temporary labor to replace students who are returning to school and miscellaneous demands have continued strong throughout the month.

There still exists, in the area, acute shortage of experienced woodcutters and also a shortage of workers in the service classifications for work as housekeepers and waitresses.

The prospective employment situation in the Rumford area appears brighter than it has been for some time. Although very little work being done in the construction and manufacturing industries are expected to make substantial expansion in their labor force.
